GENERAL GRANT'S GROWING APPETITE. WHAT IT HAS GAINED IN TWO WEEKS-DR. SHRADY'S REPORT.

Mr. McGregor, N. Y., June 25,-The day has been spent by General Grant practically out of doors. With Dr. Shrady and the family he passed the afternoon upon the piazza of the cottage. The General to-day wrote much in a conversational way, not a listle of the writing having reference to himself and his treatment. for its Saturday issue, the following official bulletin of General Grant's condition:

The progress of the disease from which General Grant is suffering is, barriag accidental complications, slow. Comparing the condition of the patient with what it was a month ago, the changes which have taken place can be appreciated. Taking this period of time into consideration, it can be said that the swelling under the angle of the lower jaw, on the right side, has increased and has become harder and more deeply fixed. It has shown a tendency to progress in a direction downward and forward upon the right side of the neck, the infiltration extending into the neighboring glanding structures. The lancinating pains in those parts, although fortunately not frequent nor severe, have a significance which cannot be ignored. The ulceration on the right side of the base of the tongue has become deeper and more irregular, although its superfleial area has not perceptibly increased. This is the seat of the pain occasionally in swallowing and when certain examinations of the throat are made. The destructive process on the right side of the uvain is apparently quiescent, although a new portion of the margin of the paint certain is showing a tendency to break down. The voice has been reduced to a winsper, due partly to inclammatory invoivement of the vocal cords and partly to nervous atomy of the latter. There is some impairment of general strength and some loss in weight, although the appetite is unchanged and the usual amount of nourishment is taken. The removal to Mt. McGregor has so far proved beneficial. It has enabled the patient to recover lost ground and thus, in a measure, has counterbalanced the effects of his local malady.

A fire started last night in the engine-room of the coffin factory of Morris & Clark, in Broad-st., Newark, a large four-story brick building, and spread through the entire structure. The building was com-pletely guited and all its contents destroyed. The loss is estimated at $20,000, which is covered by insurance, in New-York and foreign companies.

Reinhardt, each having an alias, all married and age twenty-one, twenty-four and twenty-eight respectively, were arrest-ed to-day and lodged in jail in default of $1,000 bail, harged with having been the cause of all the many reent incendiary fires here. The three young men live in the same house, they are known as idlers and make their wives support them. Their home is the resort of vag-rants. Suspicious circumstances pointed to them as being guilty of these incendiary acts from the first, how ever, and a careful watch was put on them. A good recumstantial case was made out against them and as the school commencements to-night and to-morrow night would leave many homes practically descried, it was decided by the police to arrest them at once. A SPEECH BEFORE THE BAY STATE CLUB. THE VICE-PRESIDENT'S IDEAS ON THE CIVIL SERV-ICE-WHAT HE WOULD DO.

Boston, June 25 .- Vice-President Hendricks, accompanied by Lieutenant-Governor Ames, this morn-ing rode through Boston and the suburbs, visiting the return Mr. Hendricks went to Fort Warren as the guest of Lieutenant Howe.

At the Parker House in the afternoon Mr. Hendricks was tendered a reception and dinner by the Bay State Ciub. Plates were laid for 300. Prominent among those Congressman Collins, Edward Avery, O'Brien, John Quincy Adams and Josiah G. Abbott, beside numerous State and municipal officials. Colonel Charles H. Taylor, president of the club, called the com-pany to order and in a brief speech introduced Mr.

Hendricks, who was received with cheers. Mr. Hendricks said among other things:

But, my fellow-citizens, what do you think of it to-day, whou an Indianian comes here to Boston and is welcomed by the Bay State Club! What does it signify! Not that an Indianian is here, but that one is here who does in train represent the sentiments that you and yours do believe in, and I accept of this wonderful expression of your regard more as an approval of the opinions and principles for which I have contended than of any personal confidence or esteem that you may have in myself. I thank the chairman of the club for his reference to the vote in Indiana; I had no doubt about that vote at all; from the time that the banner was thown out to the winds of heaven I had no doubt about the vector of the confidence or any personal confidence or that four years before it had given Garfield 7,000 majority. I believed that we could carry it 7,000 the other way and we did it. I am just as proud to stand before you men that fought the battles bere in Massachusetts as before the men that made it 7,000 in Indiana. If you had had no unusual troubles to encounter in the canvass of last year Massachusetts would have gone Democratic. The troubles in Massachusets it think are passed and so I have the highest confidence that at the first strangle between principles of oppesing Indianaes.

I hear a great deal said and I take a great deal of in-about certain and prompt reform. I think we are going through all right. It was a good while that the Democrats were kept out. A quarter of a century the sentiment of the country had been enforced with cruel proscription-the Democrats shall not share in the honors of the public offices of the country. It was a cruel proof the public offices of the country. It was a cruel pro-scription, such as I never advocated toward the opposite party, for I know there are honest men among them, and I would not to-day, if I could do it, take the charge of this entire Government away from the opposite side. They pay their taxes, they contribute to the support of the country, they bein to fight the bat-tles when horrid war comes upon us, and it is but fair that they should share in the honors. But it is not fair and never has been fair that they should clutch them all and say to the young men of the Dome-cray, "you are not to be trusted; you shall not share in them."

Mr. Hendricks here paid tribute to the Massachusetts Democrats, and assured his hearers that he approclated the honor when such men came together and took their seats around the board to do him and his young friends respect and praise. He continued: "I have only one more suggestion to make, and that is that the next time the election comes off—and I want to say to you that I am going to have no personal interest in it, icries of "Doubtit!" "Head the ticket next time!"] I do not expect to be connected with it. Last fail when the convention at Chicago placed me in the position that indiana had to be carried, or I had to be somewhat disgraced, why, I made up my mind that I would not be disgraced—that was all. And so, when four years from this time—by the way, I am going to come back more frequently than I have heretofore. You will invite me, won't you!" and took their seats around the board to do him and the conduct of some of the naval cadets of the second class on June 17, when a steamer brought a Sunday school excursion here from Baltimore, disclosed the fact that some of the cadets ogled the young women with pieces of glass; halled others with "Ain't she a daisy"; a lady and gentleman arm in arm, with "They ought to be chained together"; others with "Pipe the sides." NO WONDER THE SHACKAMAXON FAILED. PHILADELPHIA, June 25 .- The revelations through the examination of the management of the Shackamaxon Bank are astonishing. It is said that there will scarcely be $50,000 of the wreck found with which to meet the obligations. It is further said that half a dozen persons profited by the bank and that its failure is due to them. Many of the depositors books have not been

LIQUOR SELLERS KINDLY SUBMITTING. PHILADELPHIA, June 25 (Special)). — The

DISCOURAGING VIEW OF THE IRON BUSINESS. BETHLEHEM, Penn., June 25.-The managers of the Bethlehem Iron Company, in their report at their ast annual meeting say: "As foreshadowed to you in our last annual report the ability to manufacture steel rails is so much in excess of the wants of the country that the prices at which they have been sold have not covered the cost of production, as is clearly shown by the financial report. We can see no immediate relief from severe and trying competition, unless we are able to produce rails considerably cheaper than our competitors, which is hardly to be expected. We believe it will be to the best interest of the stockholders and workmen, and certainly of the community, that the operations of the company should be continued, even if at some loss. Without a general revival in business the outlook for the coming year is not encouraging to either stockholders or workmen. In the last year several efforts have been made to limit production, but these have failed, more from the peculiar position of some of the mills than from their want of derire to limit production, and we see no prospect of any such arrangement being perfected."

UPROAR AMONG CENTRAL PARK ANIMALS. COUNTRY.

The keeper at the Central Park Arsenal who has charge of the animals, was awakened early yester

in the collection had broken loose and in deadly combat. He hurried to the building in the rear of the arsenal, carefully before he entered. A series of cages ran down would stand a siege like an old-time fortress. If any animal should escape from his cage he would only find gal tiger and tigress.

The keeper could not see that any of the animals had broken out of their cages, but all of them appeared to be in a state of the wildest excitement. The tiger paced rapidly up and down his cage, thrusting his huge paws between the bars and bellowing continuously as he tried to force them apart. The lion lay as if crouched for a spring in the middle of his cage, thrashing his tail and lifting his head at intervals with a loud roar; and the lioness darted from one side to the other of the cage, joining in the lion's has for nine months been separated from her mate, as it was expected she would soon give birth to a litter of of the cage being boxed and a clean bed of straw placed a week. Her royal master was in great anxiety about her and would whine and call to her from his cage adjoining whenever he coased to hear her. Superintendent Conklin had given instructions to have every attention he cutered the building and soon discovered that the cause of the commotion was in the tigress's cage. He could see her stretched upon the floor of the inner cage, turning over on her back and which had awakened him. The cry was like that of a cat, much louder, ending in a roar. He could not prevail on the animal ts come out into the open cage, and as he looked he discovered another object in the cage, which proved to be a tiger cub. It was dead.

Superintendent Conkin was informed and he soon ascertained that the tigress would probably die if not relieved immediately. She was already weak, but at the least movement toward the dead cub her strength would return; her eyes would giare furiously and she would begin to how! again in the manner that started up the whole community of animals. The male tiger's anger increased with the cries of his mate. It would bave been death for any one to attempt to enter the tigress's cage, but after some trouble she was bound securely. An operation was then performed with considerable difficulty. The litter included four fine, well-developed pups, two male and two femile, but all were dead.

INTEREST IN THE COLLECTORSHIP.

ENCES AT WASHINGTON. The visit of Habert O. Thompson, Mayor

Grace, John E. Develin and ex-Mayor Cooper to Washgton, set everyone to talking yesterday about the Colthe morning that General H. W. Slocum had been ap-pointed, but it soon proved to be without foundation, L. Hedden, who is reported to have been repartner in Wetmore, Cryder & Co., of No. 73 South-st. It is said that Mr. Cleveland has told Mr. Thompson that he will defer to his wishes in the selection of a Collector, provided a satisfactory candidate from among the business men of the city is presented. The County Democracy followers of Thompson are confident that they will have a warm friend at the head of the Custom House, whoseever the man may be. Augustus Schoonmaker's friends say that he is sure to get the Collectorship, "because it is just his luck." A Democrat who favors William E. Smith said he is sure to get the Cohectorship. Secause its just haid at the Fifth Avenue Hotel hast evening: "Those fellows in Washington may confer at the White House and confer at the Treasury and come home and confer, but when they get through Mr. Cleveland will make his own selection. Manning and whitney are not interfering, as reported. They have not even suggested any one."

One of the latest names mentioned in connection with the Collectorship is that of General John B. Woodward, of Brooklyn. He is an Independent Democrat and a strong supporter of Mayor Low's administration. He took part in the Citizens' movement in 1881 that led to Mr. Low's nomination. General Woodward has been prominently mentioned as a non-partisan candidate for Mayor of Brooklyn in the coming campaign. It is believed that his appointment to the office of Collector would be a shrewd way to clear the political field in Brooklyn. Mr. Black's appointment as Internal Revenue Collector takes him out of the race for the nomination for Mayor, and with General Woodward also out of the way "Boss" McLaughlin could dietate the nomination of a candidate whom he could completely control. General Woodward is a commission merchant in this city. He formerly commanded the National Guard of Brooklyn and belongs to the Than Club.

Thompson and ex-Mayor Cooper had a long conference with the President yester-day, and to-day ex-Mayor Cooper talked the situation over with Assistant Secretary Fairchild. Thompson, Grace and Cooper are here, it is thought, not so much for the purpose of pressing a candidate of their own as to prevent a Tammany man from slipping in at the

A RED LETTER DAY IN CAMP.

GOVERNOR HILL REVIEWS THE SEVENTH.

CAPTURING A GOAT—SEEING SNAKES—DECORATIONS AND DRESS PARADE, [FROM A SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT OF THE TRIBUNE.]

STATE CAMP OF INSTRUCTION, PEERSKILL, June 25.—This has been a red letter day in the annals of this season's encampment of the 7th Regiment, Over 5,000 persons have visited the camp, and 3,000 were present at the review. Governor David B. Hill visited the camp in order to review the 7th, and as far as the review went it was a success. It must be remembered however, that the 7th is a Republican regiment, and even the reception of Henry Ward Beecher was far from being an enthusiastic one. Governor Hill arrived at 1 p. m. The troops were drawn up to receive some and as he drove on the grounds a salute of twenty-one guns was fired by the "Howitzer Corps" of the 7th Regiment, This afternoon the athletic games took place, Lieutenant-Colonel George Moore Smith was the referee; Captain Appleton and Lieutenants Cooper and Sage the judges. The officers of the executive committee are: Mr. Schuyler, president; Mr. Appleton. vice-president; Mr. Le Duc, secretary, and Mr. Rich.

At 5 p. m. the Governor accompanied by Adjutant-General Farnsworth, Inspector General Briggs, Advocate-General King, Surgeou-General Bryant, Colonet Frost and others of his staff, including Colonel Logis Gillett, military secretary to the Governor, reviewed the 7tn. The men presented a splendid appearance: the marching while passing in review was excellent.

the marching while passing in review was excellent, and the men were frequently applauded. The marching of companies A, D. F, H, and K. was commended by the visitors, that of Company K being the best. The review showed that the 7th has had excellent training, and Colonel Clark and the officers are to be congratulated on the result of their labor.

Since the 7th came into camp the amount of hard work done is not small. The regiment has improved fully 50 per cent since its first dress parade, and when it returns to New York will have won credit as having made more improvement than any regiment that has been in camp in the last two years. On account of the review the evening guard mount did not take place until 5:30 p. m. At 5:50 p. m. the French visitors arrived. A salute was fired and the French fing run up. As the visitors drove into the camp cheer atter cheez went up. The visitors were Admiral Lacombe, Captain de Saune, Lieutenants d'Aubarut and Baltine; Edward Brunant, the French Consul; General Anson G. McCook; President Sanger, of the Board of Aldermen, Mr. and Mrs. French, and Mrs. John E. Develin, Miss Develin and Mrs. Voorins, After witnessing dress parade, the visitors returned to the city on the steamer Patrol.

This afternoon the sixth company men pushed a billy goat up the steps and into the camp. The men gagged the goat, but General Shaler heard it and went to the rescue of the goat. To-night it was fed on a diet of belt paste, one of Sergeant Zittell's shoes, fourthals, one tomato can and a look at Captain Kipp's tent.

Private Allam Dederick, of Company E, saw snakes on Tuesday night. He was detailed for guard duty, his beat being from the top of the steps which lead from the steam ferry to the mess hall of the officers, About 3 a, m, the corporal of the guard was called by Mr. Dederick, who said that he saw snakes crawling up the steps. The corporal laughed at him. Dederick, however, insisted upon calling the corporal again. This was repeated five times, and the fifth time the corporal dropped his gun in fright. There in plansight a dozen snakes crawled up and down the steps; an examination followed. And a nest of rats was discovered. The scampering of these rats up and down in the monlight gave the impression of snakes. The joke is out, and hereafter Mr. Dederick will be known to his fellow members as "snakes."

The tenth company and the fifth company men are at war. This morning the pet kitten of Company E fell in with the pet kitten of Company K. They fell out, and the K kitten was badly whipped.

The camp to-day presented a fine appearance. A heavy smount of police duty has been performed, and not a stray piece of paper is to be found in the company in perfect order for the reception of the Governor and the French visitors. The more as thetic of the companies have adoraed their company streets with flowers. Company K has a letter A five feet long made of slate, edged with field daisies. Company E has a premination of the 7th Regiment Armory. Company A has a letter A five feet long made of slate, edged with field daisies.
